

4th Quarter Overleaves Overview by Michael's Consortium

September 27, 2024 – Transcript by Susan Flow, Edited by Stephen Cocconi

The Closing of the Chaos Period, and Entry into the next 25 years

Intro Notes by Steve:

We have a rather intimate group of about 12 to 15 folks a few may be joining us later. But I feel ethical and at ease about starting for tonight.

I want to acknowledge that this final quarter, this final countdown, as they told me to put in in the little advertising blurb, is a very important time in human history. And if any of you, like me are feeling a fair bit of anxiety, I just want to acknowledge it. First of all, I'll acknowledge my own in hoping that you get exactly what you need tonight. And that they utilize me in all my wordiness and distortions to provide you the clearest possible responses that you can get through your questions.

The next thing I want to acknowledge is the world's anxiety and how any of us here might be experiencing it. You've heard me use the word before: Geiger, for Geiger counter and we are all Geiger counters to the collective, to our intimates and so forth. How tuned into it we are one thing, how much we can acknowledge it and clarify it at any given moment. How much energy in our own space might be something we are picking up on from elsewhere as opposed to radiating out ourselves, that's another matter. In fact, over the course of the last few years you've probably heard Michael, and I say that one of the skill sets that must ultimately be an indicator not only of the Mature Soul Era but the maturing of the Human Race and it's ability to experience empathy is the development and then the conscious awareness of this facility that is within not just humans but in every mammal. We humans have in developing our intellectual centers largely overrun a lot of our natural instinctual talents or at least talk ourselves out of them by our social conditioning and so forth. 2:30

So, I just want to acknowledge whatever anxiety is out there; mine, humanity's and what are yours. And I invite you tonight to just take a deep breath to acknowledge that the signal of anxiety aka known as fear is legitimate, it is not illegitimate. It's let's just keep it out in front of us. Because if we can keep it out in front of us then we can wrap our heads and our heart around it and keep it managed. And that is what ultimately the movement toward the Mature Soul energy actually is. 3:13

So, having said that of course, that is if you will is my first large scale context for tonight. Everything that I've been receiving building up to this has been both personally interesting and activating at times, curious at others, very surprising which is what I'm going to start with in a few moments. And surprising even in a curiosity and enlightening sort of way not necessarily to frighten or shock in any way. In fact, I think you'll find this first piece, as I said to Barbara Taylor the other day, almost entertaining. Since I told Michael: "Somedays I don't even know which way is up", and they said: "We'll just appoint you the head of the entertainment division of the Michael Teachings." And being a Sage, I can take that on. 4:15 In any case, so.

These contexts as you all know, language, communication, information, transmission, everything in our experience has multiple layer of context. The Tao is our ultimate large context and it's the one we are operating in. I find it gratifying and uplifting that we started off with Karen mentioning God and then someone the Tao and all of a sudden we introduce them into the mix. And they are, they are the biggest container. And the wonderful thing about the Tao as someone pointed out, all experience to the Tao is welcome. And all experience to the Tao is open to creation as Kathryn pointed out, choice, manifestation and co-creation by virtue of the way we are in it. And why this is important and significant now is, they said to me that this is the most crucial cusp that human beings have yet been on. Because so much is riding on the choices, not just what American make but the community of Humans worldwide make. 5:43 And the biggest context is, do we choose life and living and the perpetuation of institutions that support those things. Or do we choose the continuation of fear, defensiveness, and the willingness to attack. And those are the big conceptual context that the human race is balancing with, is teetering against, and is a part of tonight's context. 6:23

So, when questions come, perhaps some of these contexts that I am laying in concurrent circles so to speak for you all will come back and influence the way you ask your questions. But of course, as always, you are free to ask questions in whatever subject and way that appeals to you. Ok?

Michael's Consortium Begins

Having said all of that we want to welcome you, and we are going to show you our interesting little surprise and introduce it. Can you all see the video in the background? Can you see what it is? (It's an asteroid circling the earth as a second moon.

<https://www.cnn.com/2024/09/20/science/earth-asteroid-mini-moon/index.html>) Some of you will realize that is the planet Earth and some of you will already know about this. We are calling this little asteroid which for the next 65 days or so, which will be your second moon. And we're calling it the "visitor". And what we want you to know is, the visitor actually has a purpose in being here. And the purpose is, this second moon is here to help make the transformation and stir up some of the remaining threads, tying up, and shaping some of the remaining threads of what you as Michael students have come to know as the Chaos Node. Of which has been a 10 year period. Which has been a pivotal change, a pivotal change, shift in the history of the choices that will form the history of the human race.

So, this asteroid called 2024 PT5, that again we've called the visitor, for you astrologers, some of you out there are going to start to get more and more information once it actually takes up new orbit in 2 days (September 29). But we will tell you our interpretation of it. Many of you know that the original moon, Luna as it were, you think of her as feminine energy. Well, this moon, this visitor as we're calling him, this is meant as a masculine energy booster to the feminine form. 9:12

So, what does that mean? Well, it means that the energy that is seeking to expand... mind you, remember that we've always clarified thinking about male and female, the biological sexes as opposed to masculine energy and feminine energy. Feminine energy wants to pop. It wants to take its place and emerge as an equal partner to the masculine which has basically dominated much of human consciousness for about 10,000 years through what you commonly call patriarchy.

So, this little fellow was brought in, from the cosmic energies if you will to act as this orbiting messenger to literally stir and continue to move the atmospheric energies in such a way that many of you will feel the natural tendency feminine expression which is more authenticity and be able to utilize that in a way that has if you will, a kind of a masculine push to it a tendency to believe or see flow as something that literally goes and meanders. 10:35 Well, think of it if you will, somewhat of a river with much more of a rushing stream.

So, why this is significant is because this is going to increase if you have not already felt it, something that we are going to bring up in just a moment when we review the Overleaves of this year. And that is the frequency of this time period probably feels freakishly high. And part of what happens in that freakishly high time, you saw in these last three months for instance, with 2 assassination attempts and a complete change in presidential candidate in the United States. And then you saw several governments around the world change their orientation from otherwise centrist to left wing to right wing. So, you see this shake up prior to this energy coming in. But this energy, this asteroid, this additional, second moon for this two month period is here to lend support to this energy push that is encouraging everyone to come out of the closet, stop self-editing, and yet be authentic in their expression and participate.

So, again it's a masculine energy shove of support of feminine energy. (12:03) It's an interesting kind of character. The interesting thing is of course, this little fellow is only about 10 meters across and about 70 meters in length at maximum. So, you can't see it with your naked eye. You can go to NASA and see computer generations like this video. And you can also see a few of the still pictures. If you are so interested in that kind of mechanical thing.

But what we want you to realize again that this is a large stir stick amplifying and trying to help you folks get over the finish line. This is a support energy. Yet that support energy also has the part if you will, that its disrupting a lot of people's peaceful and stable belief structures. Which means many of you will have to decide things in the moment beyond just your politics. So, it can feel very anxiety creating as we acknowledged at the beginning of this chair. (13:15)

So, that's our little bit of surprise/interesting way of beginning tonight if you will, for you. The visitor is bring it's influences, the visitor it's impact to this last period of the ten year Chaos period which will basically terminate at about the Winter Solstice in completion.

So, let's say a few things again about the Overleaves and the Energy of this year. Just to review:

The primary role was the Sage and as you can see even though you have Kings dominating the political scene, literally you have 3 of them. You have Donald Trump on the Right, he's a Young King. You have Kamala Harris a Mature King on the Left, then from out of left field you have an early mature Robert Kennedy who is also a King. Even though he has faded out and it's gotten into this kind of polarized binary. Nonetheless, they are the actors but it's about whose message and whose truth is most impactful. And ultimately this is a message, this is the lesson that each of you, as well as your political scene that is trying to drum into you. Whatever you say, whatever you try to convey, your words, and your messages matter. Your tone matters as much as your selection of words.

So, parts of the Overleaves that we're really highlighting we've highlighted in Yellow (need Stephen's slides?)

2024 Overleaves and Characteristics (Recap)

- ROLE: Sage
- CASTING: King (Influencing the level of seriousness of the Sage)
- GOAL: Growth
- ATTITUDE: Pragmatist
- MODE: Aggression
- CENTER: Moving (Intellectual Part)
- CHIEF FEATURES: Impatience and Greed
- Body Type: Martial (Strength, Endurance, Reach)
- Frequency: 64
- Masc/Fem Ratio: 72-28

Realm: Angelic

We've already mentioned the Frequency at 64 when measured on a scale of 100 is already pretty fast and pretty compelling. But when you mix that or combine that with the Mode of Aggression, not to mention the energy of Growth and Greed. Then the feeling of urgency and the wanting to pop out of an old shell if you will, is all adding a pressure in the thing which is now at its culmination point at this time. 16:06

So, here they are

Sage year,

Growth,

Pragmatist,

Aggression Mode, again we will speak more of that tonight,

Moving Center in the Intellectual Part

And Chief Features of Greed. We see a rise of Martyrdom that will flow over into next year. Let's face it, win or lose, no matter who is on that side where they feel like they lost, everyone is going to feel victimized for a while. And the biggest lesson that you'll have to prepare for, we'll talk about, is how do you begin to deal with that in yourselves but also with other people. With compassion or with combat? And we mean that literally not just metaphorically.

The masculine/feminine ratio is quite lopsided to the masculine side. And that's one of the reasons the "visitor" was inserted into the picture by the Tao to bring in support for this aspect.

The Angelic Realm is in the fight of its life right now. Some of you who are feeling the energies of your own personal guardian angels, know that they are tired. Because there are a lot of energies out there that you either might call dark or demonic or in many cases your own feelings of isolation not letting that kind of vibrational support in. Because that's what the Angelic Realm does. They infuse higher vibrational energies into your space but for no intellectual reason. You can't necessarily track it. For many folks you've been stuck in this intellectual part trying to figure out what is going to happen next, that it has blocked out the ability to just receive. 18:06

So, we want to invite you just receive, anything that you can do to allow your vibration to just feel a moment of joy, an interim of serenity, and intersection of humor, a momentary feeling of satisfaction by taking a bite of a piece of food and then being utterly surprised at how good it is. Let it just sit on your tongue. Those kind of things are the moments that are vibrational interjections from the Angelic Realm. And the more you can step out of your mind and the context to hold things in a decision pattern or prediction pattern, the more you will experience those.

So, the last thing we wanted to mention here, is the primary needs. (Stephen's slides Security, Community, and Expression) Let's face it, you can see these in action there right now. The Primary Needs, people are looking trying to secure themselves in a COMMUNITY so they can feel heard. And that's these three in this grouping.

Now some of you, like those of you here, feel to a degree that you already have a sense of Community, shared interest and so forth. But many of you still are concerned, again that parts of you that will you be received, will you be appreciated, will you be rejected. Will you be persecuted, that's some of that Martyrdom energy.

All those things are going through everyone. You that are older souls, we are giving you and alerting you that to the degree that which you can bring these through your own system, heal them, be aware that the more that you personally transcend them for yourselves and the more that you can use the Sage's greatest gift to humanity, humor; humor, in seeing your own process, sometimes for the grand irony or silliness or sometimes to feel like it's a joke, the more that you can see that, and have that feeling of levity, lightness, not only the more you will have your vibration raise but then the more you will find that in the presence of darker energy, you will be a balm a salve a source of disarming that heaviness, and that darkness in the presence of that kind of thing. So, the degree to which you can bring that on or transform that yourself the more you will doing or giving a contribution, and literally finding ways to meet these primary needs within yourself consciously where do I feel secure, what does that really, genuinely look like for you? It's OK to say, "Do I have enough money, or did I get enough meals today?" Or "Am I wrapped enough in a heavy blanket?". Whatever means or mechanisms that lend that for you, intellectually or physically. Allow yourselves to have as many of them as you can. 21:46

'Cause here's the big thing, and this is perhaps, might sound to many of you perhaps the heaviest responsibility or even the most difficult thing to understand about what we see with the world right now. But folks whatever the outcome at the end of this three month period, which remember is the culmination of a ten year evolutionary transition from Young Soul Era and mental paradigm, consciousness paradigm to the Mature Soul consciousness paradigm, whatever level of vibrational or circumstantial or for that matter institutional or governmental pivot that is in place at the end of this year, that is going to be the dominate theme for the next 25 years, the next quarter century. Or if you will the entirety of the next generation. 22:57

So, the degree to which and many of you are already experiencing this sense of urgency, and we would concur, it is urgent that the gifts to your children and the gifts to the grandchildren that are young and new and those that aren't even coming as well as the Earth itself, is what particular aspect or side of, and now we refer to those of you who remember the Vitality Tone Scale which you can find on the website if you wish to see it and download it. (<https://www.themichaelteaching.com/about-stephen/applied-michael/the-vitality-tone-scale>) If you are above that central point of which you call Neutrality, but we are trying to convert into what might be called Impartiality. Because Impartiality allows you to be with lighter vibrations but also when those heavier vibrations are there, you are not sitting in judgement and resistance against them. In that regard you can keep this mental and potentially emotional freedom to be able to operate at times at even times of heaviness. 24:19. But the degree that you can give yourself a leap forward as a race and we will discuss literally how that looks in just a moment, will help or hinder the next 25 years.

So, one of the things you see at the bottom of this slide, that we just want to elaborate upon directly because we want again to change the concept. Many of you know, people everywhere use the concept of freedom.

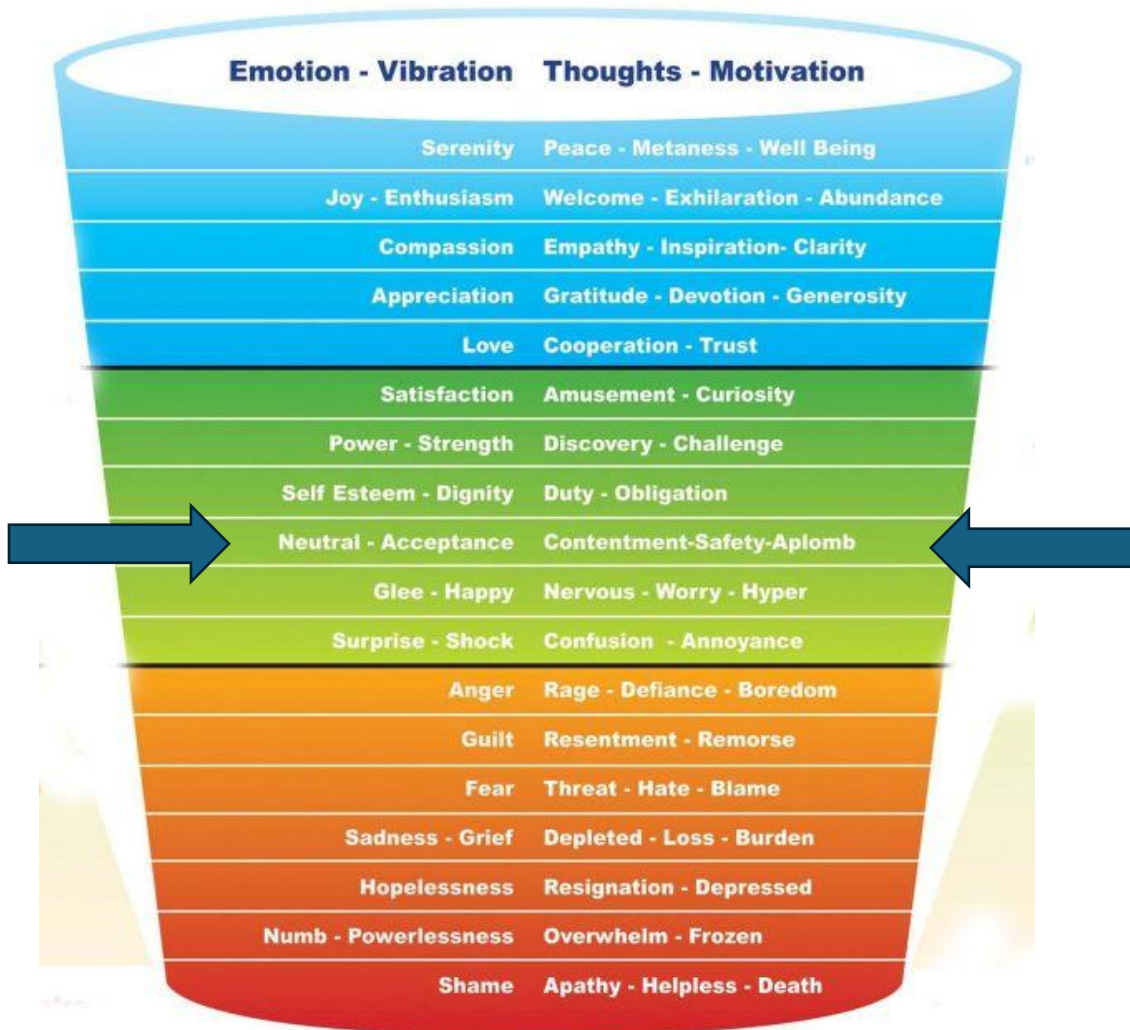

Because many of you know that people everywhere use the concept of freedom but it has so many variable intonations. And it also can be used in greatly manipulative ways for people to often justify their self-privileges or their self-indulgences or their sense or willingness to reject things which may be obviously true, but they just don't want to see. That's fine but we don't want to keep it at that level of variability as a definition. 25:23

As the Sage her demands we want to give you something more manageable, if you will a Moving Centered concept. So, we are defining it here, as we have over the last 20 years and returned on this several times, what we call Physical Liberty. And we want you to understand what Physical Liberty is ladies and gentlemen because it is really important. Some of you who have experienced challenges with your own physical mobility, know that your physical liberty is actually challenged because you are constrained in the case of your own body in that example to be able to move in a freedom that you would otherwise wish emotionally or psychologically. But when you come down to more serious, and maybe serious isn't the right word and we don't mean to cast aspersions on that, but more tangible, let's say tangible things besides your body.

Historically you're talking about things like poverty, and slavery and national racial discrimination. And the vast differences in personal power, i.e. the power over resources, to acquire what someone needs and do so in a way that is relatively straightforward. To relatively have the thought or the whim as it were and actually act on it. The world is gaining further and further distance what traditionally has been called the haves and the have nots.

So, measuring things by a person's physical liberty and what options they have and what groups of people they have and seeing the gulf between those who have virtually unlimited physical liberty and can indulge in a great many ways including imposing and impinging upon the physical liberty of others, is the great karmic hurdle of your time to overcome. And that will take exertion and emphasis with interacting with your world and other people, not just clearing your own energy fields, as we said. 27:58

Vitality Tone and Attitude Scale The Vitality Tone Scale by Stephen Cocconi is an attempt to correlate emotional states with one's physical energy and one's experience of life.

Now, one of the things that we want to characterize this year about or several of the themes and how we are distilling it at this time, as far as your own spiritual lessons as a collective of humanity in this King cast, Sage Role year, is how do you as a person, in your own personal expression, is how do you speak to power? How do you speak to power or are you silent? Do you not make your voice known in which case you are in a state of withdrawal or capitulation or even self-repression? And it's the second one then that brings that notion to bear, how much do you find yourself, and for Sages this is particularly poignant, how much do you self-edit not from the sense or really wanting the most clear communication. But the word we should have used there is, how much do you self-censor? Do you abstain from communicating or not say anything when internally you are being compelled to make a comment, make a statement, make a stand of some sort?

These are questions for you to evaluate. These are not moral condemnations about whether you are good or bad, right or wrong. But rather to find these places in yourself to see if you can emphasize, give empowering yourself to speak to power out there to enhance not only your physical liberty, but to be an agent, a change agent, to help expand the physical liberty of many. Because that is the expansionary vibration that will help bring around the positive poles of the Mature Soul paradigm. 30:11 Is pairing ? and involvement, mutuality. Not what you see at the crux epitome high point at the end of the Young Soul Era which is selfishness and solipsism. Solipsism that notion that only coming from one's perspective.

Now, with those changes then comes this third theme because this will be very important to you in your transformation, your personal transformation in the midst of all these worldly transformations. That is how prepared are you to deal with discomfort? Now admittedly we are talking about some potential physical discomforts. We don't mean like the pain of being beaten up or something like that, but we do mean the contraction of your resources. Or the expansion of asserting your power into that discomfort zone that when you are being truly authentic and expanding beyond your own previous limitations, you are invariably going to feel pain, discomfort, fear, uncertainty because it's all brand new.

It's the new frontier, previously unknown and unexplored by you; raw and completely spontaneous. And when you think of the transition from the Young to the Mature, it is a new frontier that you folks are helping to co-create. And how you are able to manifest the vibration and spread that around and then help push this threshold out of the end of this chaos period this last 3 months will be very important and noticed. 32:25

Now, we highlighted the Aggression Mode because folks it is probably the single most prominent and self-evident of all the Overleaves that are being seen right now. And you notice what we say there, the poles in a real sense are in competition. And which will survive, or which will take its place as more dominate one after this chaos period is ended. Now let's review what these look like. Many of you who know the Overleaves like the back of your hand understand the primary words that we use as Dynamism in the Positive Pole and then Belligerence in the Negative Pole. We've added a few more descriptors to try and expand the way you would actually see it in operation out there.

People striving and asserting themselves as in this case verbally as literally in a Moving Centered year and putting yourself in action, putting yourself out in the world, doing things, saying things, being in places. Even applying your money is a legitimate form of placing your energy into the mix. But making a leap forward into that frontier, even if it seems uncomfortable. And then of course we use the analogy of running here, and we would say the Aggression in the positive pole of Dynamism is probably most analogous to when you see someone really sprinting. Now we've offered the contrast historically between Aggression and its paired Action Ordinal Mode Perseverance and we've said that Perseverance on the other hand would be comparable to say to the long distance run. So, it's more of a steady pace and keeping going, endurance.

So, you're in a sprint right now and you can really sense that. 34:34 It's happening in both parties, it's happening on both sides of these vibrational equations, the differences and the thing that most of you want to hear us predict is the light side, the expansionary side, the vibrational openness side, toward the Mature Soul Era, which in your country looks the election of a Democrat to your Presidency right now is about 70% in favor of that happening. So, the energy is already poised for that but what will keep it going is the fact that you all have to keep up that sprint until the very end. 35:22 Because the perseverance that goes along with Belligerence, the hostility, the destruction, the combativeness, the undermining, the enmity that is innate in the negative pole of Aggression is squarely on the other side. And they are doing everything that they can to serve up "word salad" as it were to use that terminology that Mr. Trump himself came up with, to contradict or contradictory, laughing, as you can see we misspelled contradictory! (referring to the ZOOM slide) In any case those two energies are competing. And so, there is no letting down on this until the days that immediately follow the election. Of course, many of you will ask more specifics in your questions and we will get to those when we get to those.

And remember one thing we want to say to put this in context again for the long term big picture here, is we have noticed a tendency among Idealists and Spiritualist amongst you to forget that the transformation of the Human Race is a long arch of history. Even though this election and some of the events that will happen there of is pivotal for balancing the scales in that direction. Those scales and what's been on them like building of your institutions, or the undermining of your institutions, the expansion of rights or the contraction of rights, the preservation of your environment or the destruction of your environment, all of these have happened over a long period of history. It really started...the Mature Soul Era started to creep its way into human consciousness really about the Renaissance and then took another leap forward in that period of history that you know as the Enlightenment. And really took bigger leaps again, all be it some bloody ones, when you had both the American and the French Revolutions; and the movement away from inherited Aristocracies. And then through the expansion of particularly the development of, the battles between rights of groups versus rights of individuals or oppression of groups, you know, through the 19th century and into the 20th century. All of this has been expansion and contraction, building and tearing down and this one is pivotal in being about to put a lynch pin where it is going to move more forward and that stopping the decay, the decline and the rot that has been introduced particularly in the last 45 years. (39:00) Since really the Nixon era.

That rot is coming to a head, whether it can be quashed and literally put an end to and begin the cleaning out process or undermine more and then really cause a bigger collapse and then having to dig yourselves out of that. We're want you to understand that we're trying to help you with realism and that you can have realism with your hopefulness. And don't allow your sense of validating hope to be dashed at any one given moment because some kind of positivity that is almost opposite in its absolutism is trying to tell you: "oh no everything is collapsing, boo hoo" and then lose your momentum. (39:55)

So, these are some of the things we want to just acknowledge that these are trends that pivot between these two vibrational arms. In the American theater, it is literally the American elections and if the majority of the Republican agenda which is the older, heavier, Young Soul rot, you will see project 2025 activated and that will be a lot of the oppressive collapse if that happens. But we want to reiterate what we've just seen. The trajectory that's happening now is it's 70% against the likelihood of a Trump-Vance victory and Project 2025 being implemented. But 70/30 is still a hefty amount of... it's favorable but that's not a certainty of 100%.

The next thing that is effecting the world and will continue to effect the world for the rest of this decade but how it will play out is the key, is the Israel Hamas conflict, and the effects of Palestinian Arabs ambitions to be recognized. And particularly how Israel will be successful or quashed in its right now, mania driven, warrior driven, Netanyahu driven, destabilization of the Middle East, where Netanyahu who has energies harkening back the prophet Abraham, back of the Abrahamic religions, yes way back there, and thinks that Israel should be an empire in the Middle East. And if this energy is allowed to perpetuate, his aspirations are going to continue to cause that a problem and actually make that whole negative pole aggression much more prominent and keep the world more destabilized. (42:15)

Another part of the world that is really a key to this, to look at is how the Russian-Ukraine war is actually modified and dealt with by the West. Because Mr. Zelenski who is a Mature Scholar Sage has actually poised and can actually stabilized Ukraine, but he has to go defeat Russia, push them back. You can't do just a ceasefire settlement. It won't work because it will just allow that rot we talked about of Mr. Putin's dominance in his sphere of empire to continue to you know amorously to spread out. (43:04)

And yet if Europe supports Ukraine in pushing back, it will help the decline and the diminishment and what looks like the eventual and very possible removal of Mr. Putin in Russia in spite of the fact that, it's Valdimer Putin, ladies and gentlemen who is the world's richest man. He is the world's richest man in terms of all his assets put together but also all his power in spite of Elon Musk being on paper being a dollar almost trillionaire. (43: 40)

The next thing that we want to just mention, and we have alluded to it several times, that the way to deflate and even defeat through consolidation both of positive power but also of reaching across and helping to deflate the hate of immigrants and the fear mongering of nationalism that is rising up in places like Austria, France and of course of Hungary, but also then in places of Australia and South America. If they can be undercut or curtailed and how shall we say it, those portions of the Baby and the Young and also the Mature soul populations that cheer them on, not exactly grudgingly but we would say hesitantly because they're old models of the world that at least they can say, well they give me that security of those primary needs that we're talking about. If they can be shown to be fraudulent and that they are straw dogs and full of rot and that they won't work and the new and emerging higher vibrational energies that we're talking about begin to emerge then healing and movement can happen. But if they are allowed to continue to grow they of course, will create a destabilization across much of Europe and western Asia. (45:33)

The last couple of things that we wanted to mention because these two are together. Most or many of the authoritarian regimes, and you'll notice that we've included the US in that now. (insert Stephen's slides) because the US is still acting like an empire even though it is more open under the Biden administration than it has been under others, as we said for the last 40 to 50 years, the United States has taken its place as an Empire. And why that's significant is first of all Empires are very much Baby soul concepts that when they get supercharged through Young soul economics they grow into these oligopolies and oligarchies meaning the rule of the few. And you're seeing those at the height of their power right now.

And most of those in the world, are based, and their power is based, and their finances are based all on fossil fuels. And you notice we mention Iran, Saudia Arabia and Venezuela as key players along with the United States because you know that they are pumping more oil and natural gas in the United States than they ever have. And while those players and fossil fuels are still the under currency that is pushing the global economy, these players are the major asset holders. We should also put Russia in there, but I forgot to add them into the mix. As long as that is still the centralized currency you are going to see this tendency toward authoritarianism.

And lastly if that is the case, the next 25 years for the Earth itself, and we're not just talking about climate change, but we are talking about the acceleration of resource extraction, environmental destruction, the exploitation of populations to get it and the destruction of many species all to collectively collapse that power will be greater.

Now as we said, the good news is that all these Mature Soul endeavors, small, granulated but in some cases being led by governments although secondary to their major common activities, historic activitied like their fossil based economies. Nevertheless, there are many human activities that are moving to and moving into this expansionary higher vibrational preserve the Earth, preserve life, include people and begin to again spread power and resources more evenly on the planet than it is now. All of those are at stake in the pivoting of this in the next three months. It's not one action per se but it is all of these actions are negotiated.

And what we want to say is, that when you mention the Tao, we want you to know that the Tao itself ultimately likes evolution that expands because it means more experience. Yet, if you will, the Tao has the infinite impartial witness as well as kind of mover of currents, and by currents we mean like wind current or water currents and the currents of behavioral trends. It changes with the collective energy you all put in it. So we put this graphic here, you see these rail lines and how they can cross over or go on straight and literally change tracks.

This is all possible by the majority of energies combined with meaningful action by, in your case, human beings on this planet since you are the dominate species. So, we want you to understand that while opportunities and priorities and situations are moving in a direction that many of you would find beneficial that there is still a lot of external energy to be put out, to be asserted and much of it has to do with how you stake your claim, how do you speak to power and what do you in that regard.

So, we want to say that the portion of our presentation putting context and stating some of the details of what we will see is done. If you folks want to dive into the specifics we will be glad to take questions at this point. And for those of you who would like to ask a question, you can choose the raise hand gesture on ZOOM.

Part 2: 4th Quarter Overview Questions:

Some questions at the beginning were not recorded. Some questions are shortened but Michael's answers are complete.

A Comment from Nan, "it makes me feel rather small."

Michael responds: And that Nan is where the chief feature of Martyrdom comes in. Notice that is a mental conclusion of helplessness that you can draw and what happens is it becomes self-perpetuating. The most important thing we can say is validate whenever you make an action, you're voting, you're doing your action just to keep your self-care alive.

Refusing to give into fear as the dominate governor of your decisions, you're making an impact. You ARE making an impact you are not just an affectation? But if your mind takes you there, and you adopt that attitude then you'll find yourself collapsing. And a lot of people have already, you know... that's what MAGA is ladies and gentlemen, it's people who already feel collapsed. And they've just dived into the negative pole of Aggression who burst out into every direction. But they have no control and very little consciousness of what their actions are.

Mike H, unmute yourself and we will take your question. Mike H: Maybe you've already answered some of it. But what kinds of activities do I do to push towards a particular candidate. What can I do, can you give me some examples?

Yes, of course we will! First as much as you can commune with, associate with or discuss with people of like mind or like energy that will help build your own confidence and support. And the more energy that you compile within yourself, the more your vibration is going to be raised, and the more your vibration raises the more the collective vibration raises and the more you're at it.

Now that's a bit etheric and spiritual, which for many of you we hope can say "Oh wow, I don't even need to leave my front room!" And in your case Mike to chide you, we know how much you really enjoy that easy chair.

Next thing, for any of you who have any kind of extra funds, find the candidate or the candidates who in your research, because this is in the Intellectual Part of the Moving Center, who in your research is right on the cusp of being able to win an election and donate whatever spare funds you have. Remember in the end of the Young Soul Era money has been given a great deal of power as energy. Obviously your presence and action is much more impactful, and it will be a real visceral experience for you. But money works in this greater environ, so give it.

Those 3 suggestions, getting with other people, start talking about and raising your vibration, but also you'll find details where you can do something by just showing up. We'll give you a perfect example which many of you in this group already know. Julian Elliot has been responsible for literally tens of thousands, of spear heading the organization of tens of thousands of postcards going out into the electorate, that she herself has written or literally enlisted the help of dozens of other people to send these things out. That is the kind of vibrational and action oriented... you don't have to be grandiose. You don't have to put on your hippie headband and go out with a peace sign or go head to head with a MAGA person, beat them over the head with your sign as they are going to beat you over the head with their AR-15's or AK-47s.

No, you don't have to do any of that. Keep your vibration up. And remember what you have in common with them, everybody is dissatisfied. Because everybody is feeling abused and that is a legitimate assessment of the disproportionate distribution of power in the world. That's a legitimate truth. To those of you, vote to the higher vibration and to those of you who know of those who are voting for the lower vibration, gently and lovingly convince them not to vote.

Anyway, we hope that has been of some help to you and we hope in the levity of it that you understand there are some real things. 6:00

Go ahead Kathryn: I'm curious about the actual transitioning to the Mature Soul Era. I know that we have been in it for a while and that this next election, and the next three months of this chaos node are going to be instrumental in how we continue with the transition. But when an individual transitions to the next soul level, they tend to go from the negative pole to the positive pole... spiraling up until they actually reach a balanced state within the next level. Will it be the same with the evolution of society as well? Because it sounds like we are very much at a negative level in the Young Soul paradigm and if we are moving into a more positive, open paradigm after the election, Etc

Michael: Yes, first of all a comment on your statement about the tendency of spiraling between the positive and negative poles of Soul Age. As a society, that is also true. We've seen that and we were trying to offer that as the establishment of an Old Soul document to make a Mature Soul society that had to spiral back and forth between Young and Mature in the positive and negative poles in both the United States and France in their revolutions. You could see it in both. The Civil War in the United States was a negative.. a big huge dive into that.

Now, however when you move over into the negative pole of the Mature Soul Era, it looks like the Baby Soul tendency for finding an alliance to what group is an "us" and what group is a "them". And right now, you can see that on both sides, all sides of the political strife, all sides of the Soul Age consciousness. And that is actually a form of Community building, albeit a community building about who are we against instead of what are we for. 8:51

Does that make sense? That process then that many of you are experiencing, you are actually hearing dialogues, and we have to give President Biden a lot of credit for this, he in his entirety span of four years has really helped set the tone of that. And then the ultimate tone of selflessness was set by getting out of the race. Of all the very positive Mature Soul act for the greater good. And what that did is it allowed a lot of the new candidates, even including like some of the Republicans like the fella who defeated the Republican who spoke at the Democratic convention. Right? To actually come forward to say, "Wait we too, some of us actually have principles and we agree that these are principles that need to be built on. We just approach from a little bit different historical base."

As opposed to this power grab and this concentration of energy of Donald Trump which a lot of his party who have fallen under the aegis of. That is a form of consolidation that looks more like Baby Souls. And that is the way it can look for that group of people. Many of you are saying, "We're fighting for principles". What is one of the beckoning calls of this election? "We're fighting for Democracy." And factually speaking, with a lot of the events that have happened and a lot of the Supreme Court decisions and so forth, you literally are. Not to mention the words of the Republican candidate himself who says he's going seek revenge and in his business operations has do so throughout his career. So, there is no reason that anyone should doubt him. 10:57

Anyway, does that answer your question?

I just need to clarify that the Young Soul Era will finish its paradigm in the Positive Pole before it fully transitions to the Mature Soul and that will overlap with the Mature Soul...

The Positive Pole of Competency and Enterprise and expansion that is the positive input of Young Soul dynamism with its foot in... you might even say that... if you were to apply for instance, Centering to every Soul Age, you could say that the Young Soul age is squarely centered in the Moving Center of the Intellectual Part. Well, isn't it interesting that this year, this pivotal period is a time for everyone to say, "We have to rethink our actions". That's what we have translating that phrase.

And for the Young Soul to do that, they have to realize that things like Enterprise, competition, innovation and diversification are good things that they need to reengage. And we think that by the end of this century that positive pole of Young Soul contribution will once again have emerged in a Mature Soul context and then, that will begin to, that will be a word that you know we use, that will have been Inculcated into the human race. 12:47

History will then say, "Ah, that's what we learned from it." Things like the social contract is still a social contract. Things like "cooperation" does not mean totalitarian communism. And so forth. So, these are concepts that have to be digested. Once they are that will be how the end of the Young Soul manifestation will have played itself out and taken its place. Because folks to be a Mature Soul doesn't mean that you forget everything from your previous Soul Ages. It means that it is all incorporated, built upon and synthesized. And the Mature Soul Era for any race in the Universe has always been a step into conscious synthesis, conscious synthesis and to do that, you have to see the benefits of all these things and the presence of all these things in operation. 13:50

So, we hope that was a little bit of additional information that was useful.

Very much so, thank you.

Angela was next: I've found everything very interesting especially the positive and negative poles of Aggression... My health hasn't been great...I feel like I've been fighting to keep going forward. Personally, I don't have the energy to deal with the political nonsense... I don't have the energy to deal with it in an activist way.

We want you to know that not everyone has to. Where, if you will, is politics of your inner selves are up and the best and most important way in a Moving Centered year, and you are being faced with it, is absolute concentration on your self-care. And finding grace whenever you can, as a form of healing even when you are in your greatest pain, greatest feelings of immobility, to realize that it's not about fighting yourself or your body. In this particular case it's about finding appreciation i.e. that grace for whatever you do have and basking in that even in the presence of the physical pain. In your case literally the reduction of physical liberty that we mentioned, physical mobility.

So, in the same way that we pointed it out to Nan, the energy of Martyrdom can be there, "Oh, I'm not measuring up" and it's kind of a self-deprecation sort of way, that can lead a person into Martyrdom. Which is, "Poor me, I'm going to be small, ineffective, or I'm letting the cause down" because that's the positive pole of Martyrdom. It's that selflessness, you know, "I'll do this for the cause". That's that Warrior Chief Feature, wanting to get out there and do whatever it can, including willing to put itself out there. And if it can't do that, it can feel self-tormenting.

And we want to invite you in every way, shape and form to not self-torment because you have some real physical wounds and real physical conditions that need all of your energy first. 17:37

Angela comments that she doesn't have the level of forgiveness yet to be nice to the "Maggot hats".

By the way, you don't need it. What we would suggest is to work to defeat the level of enmity inside of yourself, not gain forgiveness. That's a resolution, just get to that impartiality. Because what we said early, remember we mentioned polarization. And the main distinction between higher vibration and lower vibration...

Higher vibration you can be for something, and you can be impartial, you can even be in the presence of or choose not to be in the presence of that harsher or darker stuff. But you don't have to be opposed to the energy of it. You just have to focus on your principle, what it stands for. In that frame of reference, in that orientation is the way that you find for yourself and for others, an expansionary energy that can actually support you. Actually, give you moments of that Angelic infusion of upliftment, of that higher vibrational balm as we believe we called it earlier. And if you can have some of those...wonderful. 19:35

That makes total sense and thank you for giving me that.

So, you talked about forgiveness for them, we're giving you permission. OK? If you're having a hard time giving it to yourself, we're giving it to you. Do you feel complete Angela, is there anything else?

No, I feel complete. (Michael offers to cycle back to her if anything else comes up.)

Susan: Hi Michael, I've heard you say that you cannot stop evolution. Even with setbacks it will continue to move forward.

That's right.

I'm curious, if we miss this opportunity to move in a positive direction and we have to eat 25 years of more chaos and difficulty, more conflict. Will we get another opportunity to change things before the next century? How far back will that push us, do you know? Can you see that far?

Logistically we will tell you that one of things about this piece of evolution is that there are only very general, broad, kind of off in the distance sort of potentialities that we are being allowed to see. Why? Because collective humanity is at a choice right now. You are at a threshold; you are creating your reality right as the New Age slogan goes. But we can say a few things.

Needless to say, one of the things is when collective humanity chooses a direction, whether it's based in that higher vibration and open to that Mature Soul development, meaning a change of ideas, a building together rather than oppositions against one another, if that is embraced, it doesn't mean that it's going to be quick Cum Bay Ah and healing across the board.

No, no, there is going to be plenty of backlash on the other side. One of the things we can tell you is it will lose steam a lot faster. It will lose steam a lot faster because a lot of those folks when they are demi-gods collapse in. A lot of their pin hopes on the outside things rather than internal principles. They'll fall apart and they will need something and someone and that's when people can begin to say, "Hey you're still human beings, you're still citizens of the world, yeh, we may not like you, you may not like us. But now that a lot of this debris is out of the way and there are a lot of problems to solve, let's figure it out." That whole energy will start the ball moving again. 22:47

If it goes the other way then what you'll find is it will collapse out a lot of the options.

But evolution is a forward motion, even if it doesn't mean progress. Do you get the distinction on that? Everyone wants to think, "Oh look at all this great technology that you got. Won't it be out there forever?" And the answer is your technological is on course right now to take over the Human race in a lot of parallels by virtue of the fact that it has been given so much autonomy. And if it merges with electronics let alone ... even way before that. Let's get off AI and robotics for a moment.

Systems theory and the distinction between non-human automated processes and human involved processes that's the evolutionary pivot that you are really at. 23:58 We've said this before, how many of you find yourself just wanting to pull your hair out every time you want to make a call to even a local business these days and they have one of those automated phone trees? Generally, the bigger the business, the more imposed delay in the name of customer service! It is literally a mind screw, right? And that is a use of technology to literally automate away from your humanity and frustrate people out of participation. 24:36

Now, what we see the possibility is, is the reengagement of people on this new and that frontier. People may not know how to do it, but you can improvise and if you feel invited to improvise, and if you feel the forums and the institutions and the persons who are leading really are open saying "let's make something happen", then that momentum will build. And that will produce not just evolution but progress in a more direct way.

But part of the biggest progress that is crucial in this next 25 years. And the one that is to be the last ditch, potential gift of the Baby Boomer generation to the Millennials and the Gen Z's and this generation Alpha who are all children underage right now who came in essentially from the Pandemic onward is to put down this flag... BREAK IN ZOOM

You think maybe some of those other energies just intervened? 26:00 Susan, talk about Tao technology, it has its own mindset, in its way! It's automated and automatic. It's not conscious yet and it's not doing things, but it's been programmed to do a lot of things that corral people and direct people. And it's mostly disempowering and not empowering on this path. And it also takes away from the organic world because you have to mine lithium and all the rare earths. And you have to produce power for them, so on and so forth and that is taking away from the very playground that this place is built on.

So, will evolution happen in both directions? The answer is Yes. But how will it evolve? And will it be an expansionary and opening or contractionary and feeling of collapsing when it happens. And down the road by the end of this century, if it went the course of the contractionary, there would be much harder choices for the evolution of the Human race to continue.

But the TAO wants you guys to continue! But it's also at your collective choices. If it implodes, it just follows the whims and lets it implode. So, it is important to keep your eye on the collective goal of expansion and cohesion right now and not just your own safety and wellbeing.

Thank you, that's very helpful and a lot to think about. 27:39

Barbara Taylor, you're next

I've been thinking about what I would call good decent people, who I know who are Mature or Old Soul people who support the MAGAs. Why is that? What is it that is driving them to lean that way?

There's a few things, first of all there is what most people consider intuition quite often is the negative pole of the Emotional Center rather than the Intellectual Center and the use of reason and knowledge. So, even folks who are Mature and Older souls when you begin to have the discussions, you'll notice the so called facts that they bring in or the form of reasoning that they are evaluating those facts are systematically blocked. In other words, their biases, their prejudices and their fears. So, Soul age alone will not cause a people alone to have a level of conscientious critical thinking skills. They are not a one to one correlation.

Does the likelihood of that happening lending itself to people being conscientious and having critical thinking skills, even if they're not necessarily academically educated, they still are more rigorous in wanting to research, in wanting to make a sound decision and accounting for their own prejudices.

As you know, many of the people within our community, have come through a great many of traumas and have a great number of karmas that they came here to do that might as well be called or put under the category of trauma because it was so hard and so debilitating and so difficult for them. And many of them even although they gained a sense of a certain kind of emotional liberation by going through that catharsis and acknowledging it, it doesn't mean that it lifted them up out of the feeling that they have to be on defense, defensive.

And unfortunately, that's where we see a lot of folks stuck at. And what they see and what he is a master of appealing to is the defensive victim in people, also making it glamorous, seem tough or seem like the rallying cry. Even though many of these people would never know or befriend someone like this. Personally, what they hear is, "Oh this person is breaking these barriers out for me. And he really doesn't mean all the things that are otherwise raising the red flags in the back of my mind because my defensiveness, (and you've heard us use this term before Barbara), is getting gotten. Finally." Kathryn put it well, it's a way of creating a sense of defensive community, defensive alliances like a cult. So, that is way, Soul Age awareness in and of itself isn't necessarily the same thing as lifting a person into, or I should say lifting them out of a kind of milieu of victim mentality that by the way is almost completely the negative pole of Baby Soul energy that of course that is still up and active in the world. 31:53

I mean we've talked mostly about the Young Soul energy because it's been the dominate paradigm, but you got to remember that there is a huge swath of Baby Souls in the world, particularly in the Midwest. Right? Who are suffering genuinely because their physical liberties are being collapsed. Now they're blaming the ineffectualness on the Democrats. And we want to validate them for that! The Democratic Party ever since Bill Clinton basically said, "If you can't beat them, join them". A have taken a lot of activities and may have paid lip service to a lot of things that sounded more for the common good. But in fact, they were really extenuating programs or attitudes or processes in the law that continued to allow the concentration of financial power, the reduction of people's, not just their freedoms but their personal control over their resources to diminish. So, those folks who feel victimized by that we want to acknowledge that it happened.

Now, the Democratic Party at the same time is the one that diversified. It opened its ranks but it still basically had it's own juggernaut behind it of giving up to this hegemony that Ronald Reagan, not only championed but made popular. You know, here's this "imitating Reagan's speech, Wellll" fatherly figure who gave everybody permission to go back to a good ole days, that actually didn't exist, but he made them sound like they did. And then people then again gave themselves permission for self-indulgence again. 33:55 In that self-indulgence, there were a lot of people who lost under the heading of "well, these are opportunities for you” when in fact the game was already stacked. And a lot of the folks Old and Mature were in amongst those ranks who lost, and still feel victimized and unheard and are remembering all the pain and suffering they had. And looking at this going, “OK, at least this guy is a sure thing.” It’s the weirdest kind of certainty, right? A negative certainty. But they feel like he’s a certainty and they know what they are getting, they think.

We hope that explanation made some sense.

Yes. It actually brought up some things I hadn’t considered before. Thank you, that’s very helpful. And you send a link to the video you used tonight about the visitor? 34:42

You’re very welcome, an excellent question as always. Yes of course! It was very fascinating And this me STEVE chiming in here. So, I heard the news of this last week, and they came bombing in me saying, “This is not just an ordinary piece of space rock! This is a harbinger; this is a helper and we’re calling it “the visitor” because it isn’t here to live. It’s here to help and then to get the heck out.”

And I’m going.... Whoa and they gave me a litany of things, some of which I heard them mention tonight and perhaps there are a few others if peoples questions go in there, they can go more into. But very fascinating and I’ve never heard of situational Astrology in my life. Or Situational Astronomy if you will. They did say that there would be a number of Astrologers out there who will catch on to this. That this is actually one of the bizarre events where you get this, seemingly the meaning of a comet. This is a micro version of a comet, a lot slower that just kind of happened to show up but having the same type of astrological influence for a short period of time and then it’s out.

Karen, you’re next: I will admit that I’m terrified of AI because I feel like it’s already permeated my life in ways that if I told you about it, you’d think I was crazy.

May be not if you’re talking about it getting into your identity online or having caused you to get emails or phone calls or people finding you. No, we would not think that you’re crazy at all. Because that’s part of the problem, that when AI was unleashed they didn’t realize that these algorithms, this self-learning application and that’s what makes it AI, it’s self-learning. It can come up with a whole bunch of things that no human ever considered.

That’s part of what scares me because I do not want it to influence my mind. I want to be an independent, creative free thinker. It’s like a giant chess game. If it already feels like it already knows what I’m going to do, then does it lead me to do it and do I still have choice.

You are still a choice; you are now called upon to take greater responsibility for investigating what’s being presented to you or what you’re seeing on screen. That means going in and doing alternative research, that also means getting offline and sitting with a lot of what you see.

One of the ways that AI is doing a job just fabulously is through consumerism. Many of you have seen members of this own community who have loved to engage with ChatGPT and draw fanciful pictures of themselves, 50 lbs lighter or 50 years younger. Right? So, it’s like wooooo, how fun! It can mirror back these wonderful fantasies to oneself. And that is very self-reinforcing because your own brain chemistry gets a hit of endorphins and it goes, “More, more, more”. Well, that’s where your consciousness has to intervene. In other words, your mind needs to intervene on your brain and go, “Oh wow, did I just get hooked. Let me back off a sec.” and for some of you that will mean literally turning off the screen.

By the way, you still have choice, the difficult parts will be is that you will have to become more rigorous in how you differentiate the credibility of your sources. 40:01 And that's true for everyone here. We're not just this about you Karen because you're an intelligent woman, fortunately you're intelligent and educated! So, you know how to run down a source, you know what the standards of credibility are.

.... I believe there's a lot of things being pushed on us symbolically as well.... Like the Joker movie coming up. I believe that is a huge social statement and I believe that it's negative....

We can't comment on that one movie because the channel doesn't know anything about it. But we do know that the character is highly disturbed, both characters are highly disturbed, and they have been portrayed to be sympathetic. That's the kind of messaging that is in part and parcel out there is in delusion, if you are familiar with that term. Delusion is the idea that if you put something into a liquid it begins to disband, dilute in that liquid so it become invisible to the whole. And there are many messages and ideas all over the vibrational spectrum that are in the mix.

And by the way you can expect that whenever you come to epic when you are having a Soul Age transition. So, personal selectivity, personal discernment, personal good judgment. You've heard us say it several times over the last couple of years folks. "Take the work judgement out of your bad work bag!". Instead think of it as "Are you condemning someone or being condemned by someone?" Because judgement is discernment. It's the positive pole of the goal of Discrimination. It is your ability to differentiate things. Then it is your ability as we were talking to you Barbara, take inputs, filter it and assemble it into a sound plan or a sound response. 43:00

There is such a thing as good judgement and bad judgement. Bad judgement is just reflective, it's reactionary, so many people claim it's their intuition, just as judgmental and condemning of other as you can possibly imagine. And they call it "intuition and spirit". They hide behind those terms. They are not asserting a principle and that's the difference.

You know you're principles. Be clear with them and then say are these violating or putting into question because sometimes putting into question your principles may help you clarify them better even if it's quote from a negative source. Right? But ultimately if you're clear on those levels then your discernment is much more effective. 43:57

Do I put myself in harm's way to see what is being put out there?

What we said at the beginning of tonight stands for the suggestion for you. There is the content of the message but there is also the context. The context is what is important here, saying "I believe in a cooperative citizenry where we are moving for the benefit of the human race through love." Now my personal opinion under that looks like this, and my personal opinion is not fixed in stone. My context, my intention, my principle is.

And leading with your personal principle and then your opinion as content that is the way you can help break log jams rather than add to them. 45:00

So, next question. (Humorously) Questions from Scholars could be 6 or 7 paragraphs long.

Lori comments on the asteroid and a comet that is coming during the same time around mid-October. Says that the asteroid comes from a group called the Arjuna group. "You talked about there being a choice in life..." Refers to NASA's plans to develop a launch station to Mars. "Is this one of things that you refer to as being a choice for life right now?"

That is something that will unfold if the more upper levels of vibrations are realized. Otherwise, humanity is not going to be able to muster, the technology, the resources, the will, or have enough of peace to have in that direction because that is such a huge undertaking. And so few of people will actually be involved in, I don't mean the building of the actual projects mind you but would be actually be involved in going to the moon, to build those stations, to build a colony, let alone to get to Mars. We're talking about the numbers starting off in the dozens and maybe hundreds. Maybe hundreds, not the idea that many people through science fiction has extrapolated, "Oh yes we'll colonize the stars, let alone maybe even Mars or other planets in the solar system".

Way, way cart before the horse. It's great for aspiration and eventually technologies will be found, so to speak, but we will tell you that we realize there a few of you in this group of instance, for those of you who are aware and in touch with extraterrestrial influences. We know that a lot of you have connection there, we know that Jean does and so forth. We can tell you that a lot of those races are saying, "ugh, ugh, they are coming to poop out in our garden" matter in fact "we're not letting them poop off the planet until they shape up".

So, the Space X and what's his name, Jeff Bezos' stuff, and the Virgin space program, they're all just spinning their wheels building ego machines. We wish we had a picture of Jeff Bezos' rocket because that's the most humorous thing that we've seen, in you know, by several decades. The fact that it's shaped like a huge penis is just a monument to the human ego. It really is, it's not space aerodynamics. It's just, "This is what we are...".

So, the ability to do it in a cost effect way, let alone to have enough resources to make it happen is really remote. But the aspiration, what you're saying Lori

, to plant stuff to actually support Earth, allow it to expand life off Earth, Yah, that is part of it. 49:00

But let us just take one more step about the goal of supporting life because we've been working with Stephen on this notion for himself personally. His life principle now is to support life. What people need to understand is when you have an infestation of say termites. It will require eradication of those termites to support life progressing. Granted it means the elimination of that small group. But if it eats out the food source for a forest, like a bark beetle does, then that is literally collapsing life. So, there are times and places where selective elimination of some forms to preserve the whole is absolutely required. 51:00

But the greater thing is to support life is to stop consuming in the massive way that it is and the stupid way that production is done. Whether you are talking about feedlots or ... granted that in the United States most smoke belching factories have gone away but not in the rest of the world. Particularly in China, Russia and South America and in India, they're all over the place. But all of those goods could be produced in different ways. They're just not as profitable within the fossil fuel dominated currency financial structure that is in place now. We could say that all those institutions are anti-life. They have to go if life is to be supported here

Thanks.

And they are likely to be transformed under this higher vibrational energy, if this pivot happens. 52:09
And the good news is that we still see the majority of possibilities. The one warning that we will say is and the reason we say keep sprinting if you can, and Angela if your sprint is just thinking about how to be healed one minute at a time. As opposed to some of you who are healthy and financially sound and can do more, just remember that for the last 45 years, throughout the world, under the name of democracy and freedom have been carried out to undermine democracy and freedom. Including on a very real structural and political sense jerrymandering, court stacking, the systematic campaigns of money taking over the doctrine of equal time, where you hear, in fact were required to hear the substance of issues not just using product advertising as a way to run a political campaign, which has nothing of substance except how much can you slur the other candidate. And those have worked their way in very deeply into the world political system. The deepest in the United States all under the name of freedom. 53:37

So, those will have to be kept an eye out for and you will have to keep sprinting to keep those at bay until all this is said and done and the end of this chaos period transforms or transits you into a new time. And that time is hopefully on the upswing instead of collapse into the rot. And it looks like it will be, but you have to keep going.

Thank you for allowing us to add that caveat we realize that was more than what you asked. 54:11

Jean, why don't you finish off this evening as our closing questioner.

I think I have less of a question than a comment. My feeling right now is that we are waiting to develop interiorly, spiritually as a soul collective before we go too far with space travel. So, I think we will be more mature souls going on space travel which will effect how we do space travel... I find it very hopeful that we will be doing space travel as an Old Soul collective.

We understand exactly where you are going.

My second thought is that the visitor is a representation of the Divine Masculine who is helping the Divine Feminine. Up until now with patriarchy masculine has oppressed the feminine and there is a sense out there that I'm feeling that the Divine Feminine is now poised to take her place. And the Divine Masculine is poised to take its place which is NOT what patriarchy is. Divine Masculine is more supportive. What I see in this asteroid is a physical example of that. I just wanted to throw that out there. 56:47

Jean as one of our students and more than capable, obviously getting excellent input, we invite you to write about that now that you've been triggered and we've seeded so to speak the information. You have just delivered a wonderful soliloquy there about the meaning of this in a far more eloquent way than we did! And we know there is more behind there. It's bubbling isn't it?

You're getting hits, please write them because the more people hear this message about this, and the more actually think to themselves spiritually, "Wow, what if this is a spiritual manifestation of a harbinger"? The scientific types will say, "Oh God, these kookie people!" Scientific types will not be able to shame them down or put them down. Too many people will fixate their desire and the realization that even if this was only a manifestation in almost metaphoric terms, that in itself, given a narrative combined with a physical object... isn't that how people have sacred objects anyway?

So, go for it. Please develop that narrative. We really appreciated and enjoyed the way that you extrapolated the foundation information that we just relayed. By all means, keep seeding, keep seeding, keep seeding. Because that is what it is all about.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, were coming to just about the end of tonight. There are a few more comments that we have. First of all, we love you and we love the humanity that we have been a part of in our evolution. And we are greatly... as much as we strive to be impartial ourselves, we are also pulling for the advancement into higher vibrations. If nothing else, the fact that there are only a couple of consortium channels, and the other two don't even know that we call ourselves a consortium, but they are receiving us. We'd love to have a lot more of you on board. The way you do that is just to allow the higher vibrations.

Lori if you ever get back into it, you're a natish (slang for natural).

Lori: I just get stuff all the time. Love you.

You just keep going girl! Love you too.

The thing we want to say to all of you is that you will all continue, you will all perpetuate, you will always have our support. What we would like for you is to find deeper and more meaningful places of support for yourself, of yourself because if you have a full cup, the self-love that we have always talked about as one of the guiding principles of this teaching, the more you genuinely have it...

And self-love is not self-indulgence, it is not unconditional self-validation. If anything, it means you hold yourself to higher standards and greater scrutiny with greater humility. But you never, you never take away from yourself your right to exist, the places that you can find love in your own life. Love of Life Itself!

Build on those, it will fill your cup, your vibration will rise. That vibration will just emanate off you and no matter what you think overtly you can do and there's plenty to do, you will still have an impact.

So, we hope this has been of use to you tonight. We are grateful for you coming.

Epilogue and Follow-up

Since bringing this information on September 25th, I've had several downloads of additional material to augment this session.

First, on the subject of Vibration, simply denying fear that attends in the background is not the same as a "high vibration." Life affirming activities, with gratitude, some even strenuous or tenuous in their source, raise vibration as they crowd-out the presence of anxiety. Also, avoidance of action or circumstances that cause "stress" ARE NOT, in and of themselves, "vibration raisers." No dynamic engagement, even when the sense of danger is present, galvanizes your Being and thrusts you, even if one feels ill-prepared for it, into the present moment. That is where the highest vibration might be found. It might not even be something one 'feels' as bliss, serenity, enjoyment or peace; but rather a state of full aliveness with all aspects of Self galvanized and erupting. In these times of "chaos" as we have referred to them, there is temptation to cling to the familiar and safe. We have no moral condemnation about such a strategy. Rather, we wish to point out that it is a constraint and perhaps even a retreat that the Ego, in trying to protect you, also hinders the growth of the Personality by stifling its ability to act outside of the safe confines of its Persona. The current circumstance will continue to thrust in front of you circumstances that you best well engage, lest they trap you in their own consequences which you might not have the means to unbridle.

Second, we are specifically framing this information because the American election is the Vibrational fulcrum upon which the momentum of human consciousness is not hinging. As mentioned above, you are a "part of the TAO" not subject to it – like a rewarding or punishing god. Thus, not simply your intentions, but your forays out of previously defined comfort zones, and dedication to principles with coherent and congruent action, is what makes the likelihood of any trajectory the TAO launches a reflection of the dominant sentiments of the Human race, even if there are many competing ones. In other words, the forces of dense, fear-based, contracted, and reactionary beliefs, are equally an aspect of TAO, and are greatly present in a world population which faces both contracting options (climate change and income inequality) and yet the seeds of so many expansionary possibilities. The two candidates may not differ too greatly on issues and who their power brokers are, but the vibration of progress and expansion vs contraction and regression are vastly different. Though we see collective humanity leaning in the expansionary direction and choices, never forget that you may have to participate in deconstruction of the dense vibration by both confronting them (in people) and helping to hear them (as reported by people). Otherwise, a clash would be imminent even if Kamala Harris and Progressive elements win the day in November.

Bravery, and vision a mutually future for all, is the best tonic to weather these times. Have more than courage, be more than “positive” be resolute. Know that you have not “won” yet.
